PROM BIDS NOW ON SALE FOR $1.50

"Avoid Price Advance; Buy Prom Bids Early," Advise Laugesen, Rees

Amidst Big Game hilarity at the Fairmont Terrace Plunge, the annual Junior Prom will be held, November 20. Music will be furnished by Jack Buckingham's orchestra formerly with the Club Deauville.

Bids are now on sale for $1.50. On November 13 the price will advance to $1.75. Admission at the door will be $2.50. Bids may be obtained from Bud Glasgow, Alice Murphy, Roy Laugesen or Vern Rees.

The committee-in-charge chose the programs at their last meeting. Those who make up the committee are Dorothy Rothe, Ruth Bradley, Gladys Kitterlin, Madeline Ghiglion, and Lois Huber.

Patrons and patronesses are Dr. and Mrs. Homan, Mr. and Mrs. Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. Harden, Mr. and Mrs. Cassady and Dr. and Mrs. Treutlein.

"We urge all of you that plan to buy bids to get them as soon at possible in order to avoid the last minute rush and advance in price," stated Laugesen and Rees, co-chairmen of the Prom.

Franciscan Will Name Winners November 18th

Names of the six outstanding students selected for honor by the 1938 Franciscan will be announced on November 18. Judges are at present checking the records of the candidates submitted by the campus organizations. Judges are Frances Bolander, president of the A. W. S., Daryl Hopkins, president of the A. M. S., and Will Smith, president of the student body.

Approximately sixteen names were submitted to Franciscan for consideration by the judges. All candidates were sponsored by some club or organization.

Proofs of Senior Pictures must be returned to the Fisher Studios by November 19 or the Franciscan editors will make an arbitrary selection. Fisher Studios are located at 165 Post street and all proofs should be returned in person in order that the studio may determine necessary retouching.

Group pictures for the Franciscan are being scheduled by Louise Vallarino or Harold Martin. There will be a charge of 5 cents per each person appearing in the picture.

MOLLY LEVINE, BOB PRATHER GET LEADS IN COLLEGE DRAMA

Humboldt State, S. F. State Hold Joint Play Festival in S. F.

November 18 and 19 will mark the presentation of the fourth annual play festival sponsored jointly by San Francisco State and Humboldt State Colleges. This year the affair will be held on the local campus in Annex B2. Under the direction of Miss Jessie Casebolt, San Francisco drama classes will present "Call It a Day" on Thursday evening, November 18. The following night Humboldt State will present "The Bishop Misbehalfs" with Mr. Garf Wilson directing.

ADMISSION FREE

Holders of State student body cards will be admitted free. General admission will be 25 cents. Seats will be reserved for students on presentation of cards three days before the date of the play.

"Call It a Day" is the story of a London family and takes the family through an entire day. Their reactions to the appearance of spring result in love affairs for each player.

Molly Levine will play the role of the wife and mother, Dorothy Hilton, who becomes involved in a love affair with John O'Shaughnessey, the brother of Dorothy's friend, Lilian Collins. John is lead to believe that Dorothy is the woman that his sister has chosen to be his wife.

PRATHER AS FATHER

The father is played by Bob Prather who has an affair with a bankrupt actress.

Catherine, the lovely young daughter of the familly, is played by Mimi Landsburger. Catherine falls in love with the artist, Harold Jacobs, who is painting her picture. The artist is torn between admiration for Catherine and loyalty to his wife, Ruth Whitley.

The baby of the family, Ann, is played by Mary Lowell. She is cast as an ardent admirer of the famous Rosetti and wins the affection of her sister's artist who finally gives

OLD DANCE NUMBERS FEATURED AT SHUFFLE

Plans for the forthcoming low senior clas dance are being formulated by the committee members. According to the reports from the heads of the committee the theme of the dance will follow the characters in Billy DeBeck's famous comic strip.

Bud Decker, class president, declared, "Everyone who plans to attend will more than enjoy themselves. It will be bigger and better than the famous Trampodian Ball."

Original decorations have been promised by Wallace MacDonald, head of the decorations committee. A stag corral will be placed in the middle of the dance floor, with the reproduction of Snuffy Smith's barn. MacDonald reports that some of Snuffy Smith's brew from the famous jug will also be reproduced.

Entertainment will include old fashion Virginia reels, broom dances, and John Paul Jones dances which will be staged between the regular dancing.

Decker reported that it is not compulsory to wear costumes, but that it is advisable. "It will add to the color and spirit of the dance," he said. Prizes will be awarded for the most outstanding costumes.

DEBATERS MEET U.C. TUESDAY

State Takes Affirmative; Marxian Socialism In U. S. Is Topic

State's fast moving debate squad runs up against what will probably be its stiffest opposition of the season Tuesday night when the college speakers meet debaters from the University of California in a pair of engagements.

MARXIAN SOCIALISM

The College Hall activities room will be the scene of one contest when at eight o'clock an affirmative team of Jeanette Jeannings and Jack Werchick, former president of Delta Sigma, cross words with a negative team from U. C. The question is resolved: That Marxian Socialism will succeed in the United States.

At the same time State will send a negative team to Berkeley to engage an affirmative Cal. team in Eshelman Hall on the same question. The two State representatives will be Wallace Gallagher, veteran debater, and Charlie Butera.

Both Miss Jennings and Butera are debating their first time for the Purple and Gold. Gallagher and Werchick have each had three years experience on the platform.

LAST BAY AREA MEET

These two debates will be State's last in the Bay Area before the proposed invasion of Southern California, during which the Gaters will meet teams from leading universities of that region. Definitely scheduled are U. S. C., U. C. L. A., Whittier College, Calif.-Tech., Pasadena J. C., Fresno State, and Modesto J. C.

Coach Shull is planning to take three teams on the trip. This will mean, in all probability, one men's

I. R. C. -WESTMINSTER TO HOLD BANQUET

With the attempts of youth to bring peace to a war infested world as their theme, International Relations Club and the Westminster Club will hold a "Peace" Banquet, November 9, at the Westminster center club rooms.

Plans to stress the part of the youth of today in the struggle to emphasize peace on Armistice Day in place of the heralding of another memorial to the men that lost their lives in past wars, will accentuate the banquet, according to the plans of the committee headed by Barbara Smith. The principle speakers of the day will be collegians from three campii: Mary Tipton, University of California; Margaret Shell, Fresno State College, and Bill Rose, San Francisco State College. Their

Committee Plan Work For Block 'S'

Dr. Roberts, Mr. Nee, and Mike Driscoll, president of the Block "S" Society, formed a self-constituted committee to confer with Mr. William McCarthy, San Francisco's Postmaster, on the possibilities of Block "S" members obtaining post office work during the Christmas rush. In Driscoll's opinion, things appeared very favorable. It is understood that those eligible for application shall have paid their dues, attended regular meetings, be a member in good standing, and have the interests of the Block "S" at heart.

A definite answer is expected soon, and if favorable, the Block "S" president hopes the members will take advantage of the opportunity.

RARE PHOTOGRAPH IN CAMERA CLUB

The second picture ever taken showing the earth's curvature was exhibited on the screen at the first meeting of the Camera Club on last Wednesday. The ramarkable photograph covers an area of two states around the territory of the Black Hills of South Dakota.

Thirty camera fans turned out and heard Mr. A. A. Hansen, Bear Photo Service expert, give an illustrated lecture on many phases of taking and processing films, both amateur and professional.

The club's constitution, submitted to the Executive Board last week by President Robert Z. Q. Aker, will be reported upon tonight by the board's investigating committee, Ed Smith, Francis Bolander, and Hal Delma.

Madrigals Perform

Madrigal Singers, under the direction of Miss McCall, music instructor at State, performed at the wedding of Barbara Larson, former State student and president of the organization, to Sven Striebolt last Saturday, October 30. They were married at the Danish Lutheran Church in San Francisco.

Lawrenz Melchior, the world's greatest living Wagnerian tenor and star of "Tristan and Isolde", and his wife, Madame Melchior, were present as guests of honor. Jean Hersholt, the actor, flew from Hollywood to share the honors with the singer.

JOURNALISTIC FRATERNITY MAKES CONVENTION PLANS

Strenuous preparations for various activities of the coming Alpha Gamma convention are being made by the committees under Max Williamson, chairman of the Ninth Annual Western Section Convention to be held in San Francisco, on November 26, 27 and 28.

Friday, the first day of the convention, will open with registration taking place at the home of Nola Keller, followed by a banquet to be held at one of the better places in Chinatown with entertainment suitable to the locality.

Breakfast Saturday morning terminating in a business meeting will lead off the days activities. The Alumni of the local fraternity chapter will be he honored guests at a luncheon that according to tentative plans, will be held at Bernstein's Fish Grotto.

All guests interested will take part in a "News Contest" during the afternoon. The contestants will be required to write a news story, a feature story, and an editorial. Will Smith plans to provide several capable judges who will award prizes to the winners.

Following the contest formal initiation of new members will take place. Dinner dancing will draw the day to a close.

Sunday morning a festive-breakfast will be followed by dismissal.

The alumni of the fraternity will issue a daily paper during the Convention. The first issue containing information pertaining to final convention plans will appear two weeks previous to the convention, and will be followed by editions during the affair.

Santa Claus For Our Kids

Tim Guiney, in his column "From This Side',, this issue deals with a tragic truth. Children in the Nursery School come from families with incomes so low, that it is difficult for them to even exist, much less have enough money to let Santa Claus visit their children at Christmas time.

These children deserve a better holiday season than their parents can provide, so start up a charitable scheme to raise money for their direct benefit.

Very shortly a contribution box will be set up in the co-op where you can put odd pennies, nickels, etc. All money raised this way will be turned over to Mrs. Messer, head of the Kindergarten Department, who will use this money to make a happier holiday season for needy families whose children attend the Nursery School.

Read Guiney's poignant column, then start setting aside a little money for your personal contribution to assist these kids and their families.

Exams Before Christmas?

Just about this time of the semester, forward looking students begin to think of final exams, and begin to moan about the fact that they come after the holidays.

A few semesters ago, is was decided that State's semester should end after vacation, in order to place the closing time of the college nearer closing time of the city school systems.

The Gater would like to suggest that some survey be made, to determine if our present set-up is accomplishing its purpose.

If possible, the Gater would like to see finals returned to the week just before the Christmas holidays.

Parking Problem Again

Somewhere within the maze of more immediate business, has been lost the plea for solution of the traffic problem. It is next to impossible for students and faculty members with cars to find parking places in front of the college, if they arrive after 8:45 in the morning.

One solution was suggested, to have diagonal parking on Buchanan Street. Beyond referring the matter to the police department, no additional follow-up action has been taken.

Two weeks have passed, and it is time that some word, either favorable or unfavorable, is released.

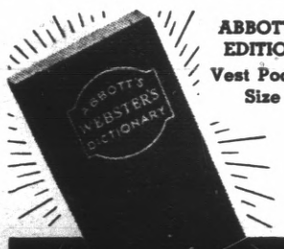

How About Linfield?

The Sacramento Excursion has come and gone. That's dead news. But this week we play Linfield College at McMinneville, Ore., just forty miles from Portland.

It is impractical to organize an excursion for this game, but there is no law against a bunch of us going up to the game by auto!

The whole trip will cover a little more than two thousand miles, and will take about a full 24 hours each way.

Something to think about, that!

High and Low Notes

By MILT BRONSTEIN

Yesterday afternoon the S. F. State A Cappella Choir sang at the Congregational Methodist Temple in conjunction with an organ recital by Mr. White of the State faculty, presenting the first of a series of four Vesper Concerts. The Choir was up to its usual star farm, singing four selections. Mrs. Ben Zeigler was the soloist in "The Beautiful Savior", and was supported by the choir. Mr. Freeburg deserves a good deal of credit for his work in getting the choir organized in the short time that was allowed to him. Mr. White played as one of his numbers Bach's Third Sonata, this being one of the high notes of the concert.

For you swingsters' information Jimmie Lunceford is playing at McFadden's Ballroom in Oakland tonight. There will be plenty of Staters there, I am sure. Lunceford has what is my idea of the best music that could be put out (of that type).

Last week at the auto show I saw Paul Whiteman in one of the best shows that I ever have attended. Whiteman himself proved that he is a grand showman, and his conducting in the serious numbers showed a fine mastery of the legitimate side of music. The Teagarden Brothers were at their best the drummer was outstanding; the sax and clarinet player was the fastest that I ever have heard, barring none. The ten-year-old singing star, Jeanne Ellis, was easily as good as Deanna Durbin. Roy Barry's performance of the "Rhapsody in Blue" was excelled by few. I'm running out of compliments, but they really were that good. They should have been good what with seven reeds, six brass, six strings, and six rhythm doing their stuff. Whiteman has reduced in size and weight considerably since he lived in San Francisco; this reduction allows him to bend his knees while conducting and to bounce with the music. To the fellow who told me that Whiteman couldn't swing, I am telling him that he is screwcoo. If what I heard last week wasn't swing, then Goodman plays in a Lombardo style.

Among my favorite orchestras Hal Kemp holds just about the top place. The way that Kemp's reeds and brass work as units is nothing short of marvelous. The tones of all the men in the band blend perfectly, which is what so many orchestras of this type try to do and always fall short of achieving. Chesterfield scores again; Kemp is heard every Friday evening on KSFO, 8:30.

Smiles . . . Cecilia Storch thought that she had a broken rib last Wednesday; I wonder who was cause of her worry. At any rate I am glad to hear that it wasn't that serious . . . Why doesn't Fred Young come to State as a regular student? He spends all of his time here any way. Who is she, Fred?

Al Lewis was plenty sleepy after driving nine hours with Marshall Blum last Monday morning from L. A. in order to attend his classes here. Al visited his folks and casually attended the U. C. L. A.-Cal. game. Among a few other things Al made the rounds (that didn't add to the alertness on Monday morning).

According to all reports the Band did very well at Sacramento. I'm still sore because I couldn't make it, but I suppose the band did much better without me. At any rate that was good work, Mr. Ernst, Norman Zech, and members of the band.

Maestro 'No Count'; Only Auto Stooge of Patagon' Vegetarian

By ALMARIE PORTEOUS

Amusing incident of the week is that of Mr. Somerville Thomson, Spanish instructor, who relates the following:

As he was riding to Stanford one morning, he stopped to give a lift to a Stanford student. He noticed that the student appeared fascinated by the Packard emblem mounted on the dashboard of his car. Finally the student could restrain himself no longer.

"Did this car ever belong to royalty?" timidly inquired the boy.

Fearing that he was having his leg pulled, Mr. Thomson retaliated, "Oh, yes."

The student's eyes grew larger as he eyed the emblem.

"May I ask you what it stands for?"

"It is the crest of the Conte de los Legumbres (Count of the Vegetables) of the Duchy of Patagonia," came quickly from Mr. Thomson.

"Is that so?" wonderingly, "and are YOU the Count?"

"No, I'm only the chauffeur," countered the instructor.

"My it must be wonderful to work for royalty," sighed the boy.

"Yes," flashed Mr. Thomson, "it isn't so bad, except that the Count is a vegetarian, and we sometimes don't get enough to eat."

A. C. P. NEWS

A department in manners—the first in a publicly supported university—has been created at Hunter College. It will be known as "the ABC of Living, or Conversation in the Amenities, Behavior and Customs."

Mrs. Katharine Bleecker Meigs who heads the course, has prepared a set of commandments for the business woman. They are:

ONE—Thou shalt not ever use scented powder as a substitute for soap and water.

TWO — Thou shalt not wear flashy clothes, or screaming colors.

THREE—Thou shalt not put on makeup like Theda Bara, nor perfume thyself so strong that strong men reel when you pass.

FOUR—Thou must not talk too freely—keep gossip for thy private life.

FIVE—Thou must keep thy love life outside the office.

SIX—Thou must not leap like a fire horse at the alarm when 5 o'clock comes.

SEVEN—Thou must speak clearly and directly—accurately.

EIGHT—Thou must not be emotional or oversensitive or get thy feelings hurt.

NINE—Thou must do thy work thoroughly. Fear not to say, "I don't know."

TEN—Thou must not think men in the office are making passes when they are only being civil; do not make passes thyself.

Mrs. Meigs believes manners are taught, not inherited.

CHARITY STORY

HELP THE KIDS

A good thing has come our way.

We've just found out how we can do our part to help a lot of needy kids enjoy Christmas.

You'll find them down in the Freddy Burk school, all with the same hopes and dreams as other youngsters the world over. There is, however, one fundamental difference. Unless we do something about it, their Santa Claus is going to disappoint them.

Most of the needy cases are children of families on relief. The incomes of most of these families range from a minimum of 40 to a maximum of 70 dollars per month. You hardly have to be a mathematician to deduce the fact that the meat bones at dinner are boiled until soup becomes plain water, and hash and stew are the predominating factors in their evening meals.

Talking with Mrs. Lynette Messer, head of the Kindergarten group, we were given information that, to say the least, astounded us. She gave us factual stories of poverty and suffering that would honestly ring the heart of a pawnbroker, with four and five year-old children the innocent victims of it all.

Dad in the hospital, mother trying to bring up the children on a suicide income, working and worrying until she, too, is moved to a sick ward, the children left behind to be cared for by others.

Yes, it actually happened. This is just one of the cases that was passed on to us in our little talk. There were a great many more stories, some, fortunately, for the better, but others for the worse.

We would like to spread a ray of cheer in going through this story, but we regret to say that we can't. You, however, can do your part to pass a little sunshine on to these youngsters.

With Christmas a short time away, plans are getting under way to make this Christmas as happy for these kids as for others coming from families more financially secure. You can do your part to help.

We want suggestions on how to go about helping them. Many ideas have been passed on to us. One suggestion, coming from Lou Morris, is to have State sponsor a "tin-can" dance, the price of admission being 25 cents worth of canned groceries.

Another idea is to have each organization on the State campus do something to help raise funds for the kids. On the other hand, the student body might organize as a whole, and put on a concerted drive to reach a quota. Boxes could be placed in the Co-op, through the halls, and in similar places. An official donation should be made from Student Body funds.

There are a great many ways to help, and we are sincerely hoping that the student body will work together towards reaching this common goal. An active, hard-working person should be placed at the head of the drive, and here-and-now we would like to go on record as suggesting the name of Lou Morris to head the committee in charge. He has had a great deal of experience in these matters, and meets all of the necessary requirements.

Let's make this Christmas a happy one for the gang down on the corner. Maybe Santa Claus will visit the Frederic Burk school and leave in his wake elephant-size stockings over-flowing with the things that all the kids have been dreaming about for months.

Get behind it, won't you?

AIRING DIRTY LINEN

Last week the Athletic Council held its first meeting of the year, and it is needless to say what matters were brought up, as it is common gossip. As long as I have been at this college the question of coaching and athletics in general has come forth every fall. President Bill Smith called this meeting with the definite purpose of "airing the dirty linen" and quashing the matter once and for all. At last I hope it is. As the result of this meeting I feel certain that anyone who is open-minded and has a broad scope on the matter will be satisfied as was the Council.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM

Dean Cox was hired by Dr. Roberts with the purpose of fostering an educational athletic program. This being a professional school for training teachers, Dr. Roberts did not want a college for athletes, as there are here in the bay area, and consequently did not hire a man known for his sensational athletic teams. Dean Cox put on the first program by his own finances, played high schools, and various club teams of lower caliber. When the time came to add to the department Dr. Roberts had certain qualifications for the applicants to fulfill. Mr. Farmer and Mr. Harden filling these requirements were hired as part-time instructors and later as full-time instructors of an educational athletic program. Notice again the educational athletic program. This program means to include all sports possible, and not freezing out any one sport in particular. It was shown that outside of San Jose State, this college fosters more sports than any other State College. Last year Fresno had three sports. Santa Barbara two. San Diego three. The others fostered one or two more. This came as the result of freezing out of various sports to build others . . . publicly.

For this type of all around program it was necessary to hire persons who had that all around ability and knowledge rather than a highly specialized person. It was shown that of those persons who took the tests here in the city and in other parts of the State, five of the highest ten were from San Francisco State College. That speaks very highly for the Athletic Department, for among those persons taking the examinations were people from every college in the Bay Area and other colleges of the State.

OUR PURPOSE

And that is the main purpose of this college. To teach the students that material in such a way for them to be able to get jobs after graduation. So far S. F. State has been able to do that and has placed

By ERNIE MIGUEL

Under the tutelage of student mentor George Mirande, the "Baby Gaters", the State Junior Varsity basketball team start practice on the court of the Salvation Army gym this afternoon.

Coach Mirande has practically the same team taking the floor this year as he had in last year's basketball season. Among the returning veterans are the two Thompsons, Hal and Red, the two Collins', Ed and Frankie, Bill Rowlands, "Jerk" Smith, Bob Chandler, George Paiva, George Bogdanoff, Ronnie English, Joe Lee, Lee Carothers, and Jim Hopkins, one of last year's Flying "A" stars, will return at the beginning of next semester.

Among the freshmen who are coming out for their first year in State basketball and probably will start on the jayvee squad is George Thayer, at present playing center for the Gater gridders. According to Coach Mirande, there will be plenty of room for more material on his teams, as he is intending to put another Flying "A" team on the floor to play preliminaries to the regular jayvee games.

Most of this year's games will be played as priliminaries to the varsity tussles, the jayvees playing double-headers when the varsity is traveling. His team will make several trips during the season, one being a trip north to play the high school teams from Ukiah and Willets. Also on his schedule are such teams as the Alameda Elks, Lowell High School, Galileo High, Poly High, George Washington, Balboa, and Pittsburg High Schools, the Olympic Club 145 lb. team, the Signal Oil 145 lb. team, the Fruitvale A. C., the San Francisco and Columbia Park Boys' Clubs 145 lb.

more teachers than any other State College to date.

OUR PRINCIPLE

As for throwing Mr. Farmer and Mr. Harden out because they do not produce a winning football team, every student in this college has a perfect right to ask that Mr. Fenton be thrown out of the English Department because he does not teach English Literature as Joe Bloe of California teaches it, or Joe Bush of Harvard teaches it. And the same goes for every faculty member. But those who have done most of the squawking did not know that could be done. Farmer and Harden do the best they can with the material with which they have to work. Cox, Farmer, and Harden have had prospective students approach them and ask just what their bid was for them to come to State, stating they had bids from various other colleges to attend. We do not get any of the "cream" of the athletes for the simple reason that the other colleges pay them to come to their college. Students go here for an education, and that is what they get. We are not sensational athletically. But we give a sound education in athletics and physical education. And that is the principle of this college.

And so I wash my hands of the whole affair, and hope that I have been able to shed some light on the subject.

THEY LL PLAY NO MORE

Both Four Year Star Gridders

CAPT. HAL BESEMAN

Tomorrow, Capt. Hal Beseman and Bill Harkness embark for McMinnville, Oregon, to play their last game of football for State. It is with regret that these two swell fellows must leave the gridiron. Four years of service to this institution is a long time, but to these fellows and to us it will remain a fond memory.

State will miss Capt. Hal and Bill. Hal has been a towering giant in the State line for the past three years, while in the backfield Bill has borne the brunt of the offense with his passing and kicking. Coaches Farmer and Harden will find it mighty hard to fill the positions these boys leave.

Said Bill Harkness after the Sacramento game, "Beseman has played the best game of his career tonight. During these past years it has been a real pleasure to know and play with him, and it is with regret that we cannot continue to play."

Said Capt. Hal Beseman after the game, "I have enjoyed knowing and working with Bill. Mr. Farmer and Mr. Harden hate to lose Bill from the football team because of his brilliant playing, such as he did tonight."

BILL AHRKNESS

Having had the opportunity to work with these two fellows, your editor can vouch that it will be a long time before State will have two such capable men as Hal and Bill. Good luck to you, Hal and Bill. May you be as successful in life as you have on the gridiron.

GATERETTE . . . . GOSSIP

By Babette Lau

Ran all over the place last Friday trying to find kiddie cars for the party that nite. But it was all without success. We were in our deepest gloom when someone suggested renting scooters. Joy again! We hopped into the car and were off to rent scooters. Happened to pass a coca cola truck on our way, and guess what? When we got back to school there was coca cola in the car. Wonder how it got there . . . Rode around in the locker room and tried to practice up for the hockey game on scooters, but guess we're just getting too old, 'cause we couldn't steer the thing and kept crashing into the lockers. The party was quite a success with most every one in costume. There was only one thing we sorta kinda thot could have been eliminated, and that was the blood-hound relay of pushing an onion the full length of the gym floor with the nose. (We were smelling onions in our dreams.) When the party was over and most of the kids left for other parts, Miss Burt, our new P. E. instructor, was still there helping us scrub floors. We like teachers who get right into the spirit of student activities.

W. A. A. was trounced by the faculty in soft ball last Monday. But it was fun, and we're going to play them again as soon as we can give them better competition. During the first inning we were pitching under hand, but the faculty was just too good for us and piled up fifteen runs; so they let us pitch over hand the rest of the innings. Then the game was really exciting, with Bobbe striking the teachers out most every time. Bet Dr. Morse would like to get even with her. The faculty line-up was: C, Treutlein; P, Harden; 1, Cassady; 2, Morse; 3, Amsden; SS, Farmer; CF, Nee; LF, Hertz. The game ended with victory for the faculty of 18-5. Been thinking of challenging the Block "S" just for the fun of it, but to make the game half way even, we'd certainly have to handicap them plenty. Maybe they could do everything left handed.

Hey kids, hope you have all been working hard so we won't have too great a last minute rush on the Playday. It's this Saturday, Nov. 13th. Even the teachers are helping us—Thanks Mr. Ray for the cute watermelon programs. If you are staying for lunch, will you please sign-up in the gym.

Harkness and Beseman Turn In Fine Game; "X" Play Fools Sacramento

Sacramento J. C. ran some fast legislation at the gubernatorial city last Friday nite under the tutilage of Coach Applequest to score numerously and frequently and down a tired Gater squad 33-14. Try as they might, the Gaters failed to stop two touchdowns which came as the result of long runs from our errors.

Mark Woerner opened the scoring the third time Sacramento took the ball. He terminated a 56-yard march all but six of which he made, by scoring from six yards out. Bob Wai converted. In the second quarter a 35-yard march put Fullback Fred Sartore from one-yard out. At half time the score read 13-0 in favor of the valley city aggregation.

The third period was newly born when Joe Smith returned Bill Harkness' punt 56 yards to the goal and Sartore muffed the conversion.

State hit the scoring column midway in the fourth period when Captain Hal Beseman trotted 30 yards to Sacto's two on a tackle-around play. Bill Harkness pushed it over on third down and Red Thompson drop-kicked the extra point.

Three plays later Al Christianson fought off every Stater but the coaches and raced 88 yards inside left end to the goal. Phil Ritchie drop kicked the extra point.

Two minutes later Christainson repeated his act by pulling the same trick for 37 yards and a touchdown. On this business the Panthers went 72 yards in four plays. Martin Rellis converted. State, never to be outdone, pulled the tackle-around play again for 30 yards several seconds later and Bill Harkness passed to Bud Chandler for 28 yards and the second State touchdown. Frank Jackson scored the conversion when he ran Harkness' blocked kick into the end zone.

Jayvee Record Good

Last season it was the concensus of opinion of many of the fans that the Jayvee squad put on more thrilling games than many of the varsity tilts, some of which State won by such scores at 62-21, while the Jayvees were playing games with scores such as 21-20, 23-21, and 25-22. The jayvees last season took such teams into camp as the Chinese Y. M. C. A. squad by three points, Lowell High by four points, and close games with Willits High, Visitacion Valley, Pittsburg High, Mission High, San Francisco Boys' Club 145 lb. and the Ukiah High School. The Flying "A" team played the lightweight teams from the high schools, the Ukiah and Willits town teams, boys' clubs and athletic clubs.

"Peace" Dinner

themes will ring with the efforts of students of American Colleges and Universities in peace movements.

The banquet, coming on the eve of Armistice Day celebration, is under the combined direction of two San Francisco State organizations, the International Relations Club and the Westminster Club. In addition to the three speakers, Burton Johnson will offer a reading, "The Unknown Soldier" and one other selection. Musical numbers by students of the Music Federation will also be offered.

A committee of seven people, headed by Barbara Smith, have formulated the plans and are working in conjunction with Doctor Fisk, Westminster sponsor, and Mrs. Monroe, International Relations Club sponsor. Included on the committee are: Ernestine Prather, Muriel Anderson, Ruth Kearns, D. Olom, May Matsamuto, Vivian Wehrli, Florence Turner, and Janet Graham.

Tickets for the dinner are priced at forty cents and will go on sale Monday from ten to three and Tuesday until one in College Hall, according to Barbara Worth, chairman.

"We are extending an invitation to all the students of San Francisco State to join with us in our part of the National Youth's Movement. We have prepared a dinner that only the most particular gourmant could refuse. In order to know exactly how many we are to have at the dinner, we ask you to make your reservations before one o'clock Tuesday if you are planning to attend," Miss Worth stated.

HAROLD JACOBS RALLY WINNER; BRONSTEIN AND CHANDLER TIE

By EDWARD PIERCE

"Surpassing all former successes, Thursday's Rally Talent Parade was overwhelmingly received and the entertainment was superb," reports Hal Delma, leader of the Rally Talent Parades.

Harold Jacobs unanimously won first place in the contest, and Milton Bronstein and "Bud" Chandler tied for second place. Jacobs presented several impersonations of the March of Time. Bronstein and Chandler offered an instrumental solo and a vocal solo, respectively. The judges could not decide between the two.

Jeanette Adams, diminutive little tap dancer, quickly won the audience with her dancing and winning personality.

Another added feature of the Rally Parade was the appearance of State's band in uniform, playing the school victory song.

The next Rally Talent Parade is scheduled for Friday, November 12, at noon in the gymnasium.
